PRESIDENT IN CHARGE OF SHANTUNG PARLEYS

Allies Left It Entirely To Him—He allowed Conces- sion To Japan

Washington, July 30.—Nothing has startled the Senate since the treaty of peace was signed at Versailles as the admission by President Wilson at the White House, in constitution with Republican members of that body, that he alone conducted negotiations for cession of Shantung and forty millions of Chinese people to the domination of the autocracy of Japan.

The burden of permitting this decision was shifted to him by the Allied powers, all of whom, the President informed the Senators, were bound to comply with secret treaties made to draw Japan into the war on their side at its beginning. He therefore took the matter in hand and over the vigorous protest of Secretary Lansing, Henry White and General Bliss, his fellow delegates representing the United States, gave the Island Kingdom control of three gateways to the future stifling of the Chinese Republic, and the richest of the latter's provinces. The three American protestants against the President's wishes favored taking Shantung from Germany, who had taken it by force, and giving it back to its original owner, China. They protested prior to the meeting of the council of the Great Powers which made the final decision in the matter.

The President is said by the Senators who consulted him on the subject, Calder, of New York; Edge, of New Jersey; and Cummins, of Iowa, to have admitted that the reason for his accession to the demands of Japan is that Japan would not have entered the League of Nations or signed the peace treaty had he not done so. And so, in contravention of the treaties of the United States and of Great Britain with China, guaranteeing her integrity, he agreed that Japan should be permitted to violate that integrity to an extent of a tenth of her original population, and the most important part of her land surface. This also in contravention of the policy of the "open door" agreed upon by John Hay when Secretary of State.

The President denies that he originated or formulated the provisions in regard to Shantung, but does not deny that he was placed in charge of the negotiations pertaining to them, which was all the Republican Senators who visited him understood him to admit. Because of this admission, however, they hold him responsible for the lack of refusal to accede to Japan's demands. Japanese delegates in Paris deny that they asked Shantung in return for giving up their racial equality claim, but not that they threatened to remain out of the league if not yielded it.

ONE-HALF OF THE SCHOOLS NOW OPEN

According to superintendent Howard's estimate, one-half or more of the common schools of Ohio county are now open. It is thought 'at all will be in session by Monday, August 11, provided teachers are procured for all. At this date five schools are without teachers under contract, for the present school year. A few teachers are yet needed to complete the faculty of some of the graded schools also.

REPUBLICANS AID LABOR.

Washington, July—Forty-eight Democrats and no Republicans voted against the Nolan bill granting a minimum wage of $3 per day to all employees of the federal government and the measure, fathered by Representative John I. Nolan, of California, was passed in the House with 327 votes in the affirmative.

This bill, for which a fight has been made by Nolan during the past seven years without success until now, is considered by his associates on the House Committee on Labor and by Republicans in the House generally as especially important, because it establishes an example by the federal government for all employers in the country and lays down the principle that every person employed anywhere is entitled to compensation to a living wage of at least $3 per day. It was endorsed by the American Federation of Labor. Luther C. Seward, president of the Federation of Federal Employees, gives thanks to "one of the progressive Republican leaders of the House" for putting the measure through. The forty-eight opposing Democrats are nearly all from the Southern states.

"SOME" YELLOW ROOT.

Squire Winson Smith, of Select, recently dug a bed of golden seal yellow root, 8x80 feet, that brought him $126.56 after retaining a sufficient quantity of young growth to reset the bed. A whole acre yielding in proportion to this small strip of 8x80 feet, would be worth—oh, well, figure it out yourself.

COLORED TEACHERS'

INSTITUTE AUG. 11

The Joint Institute for colored teachers of McLean, Muhlenberg, Butler and Ohio counties will convene at this place, Monday August 11.

Dr. Frank L. Williams, superintendent of the Fort Sumner High School, St. Louis, Mo., has been procured as instructor of the institute, and this fact assures the colored teachers' of an instructor worth while. Dr. Sumner is recognized as one of the foremost educators of his race, in the whole country.

SUNKEN HUN SHIPS

Will Go To Great Britain,—Salvaging Now Going On

London, July 26.—The work of refloating the German warships sunk in Scapa Flow is progressing rapidly and it is expected that by next year the entire fleet will have been raised.

Under the laws of salvage Britain will acquire title to the restored fleet. Nearly all of the light cruisers and destroyers have been moved into shallow water and the big ships are now receiving attention. It is expected that the flagships Baden and some of the other battleships will be raised in about ten days but the work of salvaging the battle cruisers will be more difficult as they lie in deeper water.

The Pall Mall Gazette makes the announcement that the first batch of German warships surrendered under the terms of the peace treaty will soon arrive at a British port. This fleet will include eight dreadnaughts, six light cruisers and nearly a hundred torpedo boats and destroyers.

It is expected a number of these vessels will be assigned to France. Others will be taken over by Britain and the United States to be broken up or used as targets in battle practice. France has expressed a desire to acquire possession of the cruiser Graf von Spee, which has just been launched.

SECOND BUNCO ATTEMPT.

Washington, July 30.—Former Senator Thomas W. Hardwick, of Georgia, who was chairman of a great mass meeting at Atlanta to hear Senator Reed, of Missouri, oppose certain features of the league of nations covenant, was in Washington the other day to visit his old colleagues and attend to some departmental business. He said that Senator Reed had been given a great ovation, not only at Atlanta but throughout all of his tour of the Southern states.

"Yes," said Hardwick, "I presided at the Atlanta mass meeting and when I mentioned that Mr. Wilson had promised to keep us out of war, and one month after he entered upon his second term plunged us into war, and that now he was again before the people with a promise to keep us out of war, but that I, for one, refused to be bunched a second time, the crowd cheered for fifteen minutes."

I am convinced that the sentiment of the South is against the most obnoxious feature of the league of nations. If the question were left to a popular vote in Georgia today, the covenant would be overwhelmingly defeated."

NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS

Of the East and West Fordsville voting precincts I, or one of my deputies, will be at the Fordsville courthouse on August the 4th, for the purpose of listing the property of all the taxpayers in said precincts. Come and list with us at this time or go to Hartford.

D. E. WARD,
Tax Commissioner, Ohio County.

TO-MORROW THE DAY.

Tomorrow, we decide as to whether we are willing to pay the sum of 20 cents on each one hundred dollars worth of property we have, subject to local taxation, once each year for a period of five years. Don't be fooled by anything else you may be told. We know exactly what it will amount to according to our wealth. We now set aside practically 25 cents to each $100 worth of taxable property, or one-half of all we collect, under present conditions, and if we are willing to supplement the fund already available, from year to year, we could have a budget for our roads and bridges of sufficient size to do quite a lot of roadwork of a permanent character. As it is now, we have only enough to dump a little here and a little there, none of it doing the good it ought to do, and would do, if enough were added to make it of a permanent character. One dollar now, will do no more than 50 cents would three or four years ago, and if we did not have sufficient funds then, how in the name of justice are our people to keep roads in any sort of condition now? Some of the wealthiest men of the County are the men to give the least, or nothing at all, when approached for a public subscription for road improvement. There is no room for an argument as to whose duty it is to bear the burden of the up-keep of our roads, as well as other public necessities for the matter of that. Its a rather strange coincidence, that you find the extremes together in this movement against better roads. On the one hand, it is the man or men worth the most in every community, together with the poorest of men helping him. The man who can't be made to pay taxes, because he has nothing on which to pay, appears to lend himself a willing tool to aid the rich man in keeping all he has, rather than pay a meager sum each year for the benefit of the whole community, of which, the more wealthy would themselves be the chief beneficiaries.

Some men argue that they are against the tax proposition because of "graft," because the money is not properly spent, and a number of other such excuses are given for being against the proposition. Usually its the dollar. According to their excuses, we ought to do away with all taxes, and the fellow who is against this 20 cent special road tax, if he really means what he says, ought to start a petition calling for an election to do away with all taxes, because if it is right in one case it is right in the other. If good roads are a good thing for a people, we ought to have them. If they are not worth while we ought to do away with all roads, one proposition is just as sensible as the other. None of us are so silly as to believe that we can ever get our roads improved without paying for the work, in fact no honest man ought to want a road built by his home without doing his fair share, and the only manner in which every man can be made to do his fair share is to make all pay alike, considering what they are worth. Looking only at the equitable side of the proposition, believing that with the aid of this extra 20 cents, we may do some road work worth while for, as it is, we know that we can not. Having faith in those who may hereafter be chosen to spend the money we would collect, if the proposed tax carries, with all of these points in mind, we shall gladly give our approval for this trial of the 20 cent road tax, hoping that we may be out of the fog and on the solid rock of permanent improvement, meeting our brethren of adjoining counties at the border line with roads over which at least, good will may be conveyed without the destruction of all means of travel and intercourse.

TAXES AND ROADS? NO--YOU ARE CRAZY

J. H. Thomas Advances His Views On The Tax And Road Question

Owensboro, Ky., July 30.—I was mighty glad to see Mr. C. S. Rowe, of Centertown, sounding a warning home against the road tax.

I am glad Mr. Rowe had this road tax nightmare, as it will serve to arouse the populace to the unbearable burden of the 20 cent road tax. Just think what a calamity is about to befall the already tax-ridden people! Why, the fellow who paid tax on $1,000 worth of property would have to sell one whole bushel of corn every year to pay his road tax. Well might Mr. Rowe sound the dread alarm.

Everybody would like to have good roads but who in the dickens wants to pay for them? The country is going wild with extravagance. Men actually pay $200 for a reaper, whose fathers bought a scythe and cradle for $2.50. Some wasteful farmers are buying $1500 tractors when a good pair of mules may be had for a fourth of that amount. But if such fool spendthrifts want to run madly on wasting their money, let them run, but let us draw the line at voting a road tax.

Good roads may be all right in Daviess or Hancock or Butler, but we can worry along in Ohio county and save our money.

What in the name of Josh Billings do we care if we do become the laughing stock of the counties around us, we'll save that tax.

Of course our fool children or grand-children will finally waste a lot of money building good roads in Ohio County, but let us stave off the terrible calamity as long as possible. But I am uneasy about the result of the election, and pride is likely to cause it. A lot of Ohio county people have gotten a notion that the county ought to keep up with the procession. Pride is ruining the with the Republican, wish for the country and even me and Mr. Rowe newly married couple, as they embark away down in our hearts, kindly hate upon the voyage down the stream of to see Ohio county sucking the hind tit of the good roads sow.

If Breckinridge and Hancock and Butler, our door neighbors, hadn't gone and voted the road tax I'd feel pretty safe, but I'm afraid of their examples.

Well, if the worst comes to the worst, Mr. Rowe and I will try to stand it, but it shall not be said that we did not warn the people against the awful burden of the iniquitous road tax.

Sorrowfully yours,

J. H. THOMAS.

INDORSE CANDIDACY OF BAKER AND ROBERTS

To the voters of the seventh Senatorial District comprising the counties of Muhlenberg, Ohio and Butler, also the voters of Muhlenberg county for representative, realizing that we are standing on the thresh-hold of a new era in the affairs of men, and appreciating the fact that we must have men in the legislative halls that will use diligence to enact laws that are just and favorable to the working people.

Therefore be it resolved that we, the District Executive Board, District No. 23, go on record as indorsing the candidacy of Bro. George Baker for State Senator, and Bro. William Roberts for Muhlenberg county Representative.

Signed on behalf of the District Executive Board.

WILLIAMS—HALL.

Mr. Sidney Williams, of this place and Miss Willye Hall, of Luzerne, surprised their many friends by quietly getting married in Owensboro, last Saturday. The bride is a daughter of Mr. S. R. Hall, of Luzerne. For the past three years she has held a position in Central City, and is popular there as well as in her home town. Mr. Williams is a son of Rev. and Mrs. A. J. Williams, of this place, where he is widely known and has a large circle of friends, who, I am sure, will be pleased to witness the wedding.

CROP OUTLOOK IN THE COUNTY VERY GLOOMY

Only light local showers have fallen in Ohio County since our last issue, and then, on very restricted areas, covering only a mile or two square. In the Pleasant Ridge and Bells Run sections, we were informed by a good farmer of considerable age, that crops were burned, for lack of moisture, worse than he ever knew them to be. The larger portion of the County is in the same condition. Field after field of corn is beyond redemption. Tobacco is also firing badly, much of it has narrowed up and buttoned out with only shoestring, leathery leaves toward the top. Tobacco of this character is also beyond the stage of producing anything worth very much.

Pastures have also dried up wonderfully during the past week, and people must resort to feed at an early date.

NEW TEXT BOOKS

NOT YET ISSUED

Superintendent Howard informs us that he is continuously receiving inquiries as to the new text books recently adopted for use during the present school year. He requests that we state that so far, none have been received and that he has no information as to when they may be expected. The Republican will give notice of the arrival of the new books in the first issue thereafter.

GOOD ROADS SAVE MONEY.

The improved roads of Milwaukee County, Wis., save $25,000 a day to the people who use them. This is the estimate of the county commissioner of highways, as reported to the Bureau of Public Roads of the United States Department of Agriculture. The statistics are based on a census of the traffic taken periodically during the past four years. The census is made by selecting 52 points scattered through the county, and making seven counts at each point, one for every day in the week. The count is not made on consecutive days, but at various periods from April to November, so as to arrive at average conditions. This census is taken to determine the durability of certain types of pavement, according to the amount of traffic a square yard. It shows that about 25,000 vehicles of all kinds travel the highways each day. Traffic on the road has increased about 42 per cent a year during the four years in which the survey has been made.

REOPEN ZEEBRUGGE AND OSTEND PORTS

Blocked By War, Now Boon To Belgium—Immense Salvage Feat

By Robert Welles Ritchie
London, July 11.—The Belgian ports of Zeebrugge and Ostend have been opened, with appropriate ceremonies, to the world's commerce. And now, since Antwerp has been restored to shipping for several months, these reopenings of war ports complete the Belgian aspiration to be once more in touch with the world's commerce.

Behind the announcement of the re-establishment of commercial facilities at Zeebrugge and Ostend lies a wonderful story of patient toil and unremitting effort on the part of the British admiralty salvage department, under command of Commodore F. W. Young, R. N. R. For to him and the men working under him have fallen tasks of naval engineering almost staggering in their magnitude. In a word, theirs was the job to clear out these two fairways of all the wreckage and death-dealing mantraps which the Germans craftily laid before their retreat from the Belgian coast last October, as well as to remove the hulls of ships which the British sunk there in their effort to block off the German submarines using Bruges as a base.

Sea Gates Bottled Up.

When the enemy retreated from the Belgian coast, he did his utmost to bottle up its sea gates so that they would be of no use for a long period, and, in addition, he inflicted extensive damage on the canal which connects these places with Bruges.

The first thing Commodore Young did was to make a temporary channel into Ostend-Bruges canal—a heavy task. For doing it, the largest salvage plant ever assembled was sent to the Belgian coast by the admiralty.

The Royal Marine Engineers, under Sir Valentine Gibbs, were also sent to work there repairing bridges, wharves, etc.

Owing to the number of booby traps and sunken mines which the enemy had laid, the R. M. E.'s and the salvage people, too, had to work warily. At the beginning their job was as full of dangers as of difficulties. But from the first they made excellent progress with it.

Opposite the Vindictive the enemy had sunk a dredger, with other heavy craft on top of it, in such a position that the entrance to Ostend harbor was completely sealed up. Commodore Young first cut a temporary passage through these obstructions so that the Belgian mail steamers and relief ships could enter at high tide. Then other enemy-sunken wreckage was hauled aside, and so a way into the basins and the canal was made. All sorts of obstructions had to be fished out of the basins before shipping could use them.

Boon To Belgium.
Even now there remain several craft to be picked up from the water at Ostend, as well as bridges to be repaired. But the channels have been so unblocked that a combined boat and train service can again be resumed, and that means a great boon for the whole of Belgium.

At Zeebrugge, where most of the salvage plant is now operating, a large number of cranes, railway wagons and sunken vessels have had to be hauled up from the water alongside the Mole. More remain to be

HUSBAND SAVES WIFE

From Suffering by Getting Her Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Pittsburgh, Pa.—"For many months I was not able to do my work owing to a weakness which caused backache and headaches. A friend called my attention to one of your newspaper advertisements and immediately my husband bought three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for me. After taking two bottles I felt fine and my troubles caused by that weakness are a thing of the past. All women who suffer as I did should try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

Mrs. JAS. ROHRBERG, 620 Knapp St., N. S., Pittsburgh, Pa.

Women who suffer from any form of weakness, as indicated by displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, backache, headaches, nervousness or "the blues," should accept Mrs. Rohrberg's suggestion and give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a thorough trial.

For over forty years it has been correcting such ailments. If you have mysterious complications write for advice to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

lifted, but enough space has been provided to give berths to merchant shipping. After this part of the job is completed, the work of lifting the Brussels, Captain Fryatt's ship, will begin. Then the blockships and much other wreckage must be placed on the beach.

After British Mine-sweepers have taken up from the Zeebrugge-Bruges canal the many mines which the enemy sowed in it, the Belgians will clear the channel of wreckage and likewise clean Bruges dock, in which Germans have sunk all sorts of craft, from dredgers to destroyers.

As for the Vindictive, no attempt has yet been made to lift her. She broke adrift in a recent storm, and all hope of preserving her seems to have gone. She is no impediment to navigation where she lies, so that the work of removing her shot-riddled hull can be left to the last.

Surgeons agree that in cases of Cuts, Burns, Bruises and Wounds, the first treatment is most important. When an efficient antiseptic is applied promptly, there is no danger of infection and the wound begins to heal at once. For use on man or beast, Borozone is the ideal antiseptic and healing agent. MOCKS STUTTERER AND NOW HE'S GOT HABIT

New York, July 19.—Michael Bakun, of Brooklyn, probably will stutter for some time—all because he mocked Daniel Mucerine, one of his fellow-workers, who has stuttered since birth. Bakun mocked Mucerine and the latter swung one on his jaw which broke it. When Bakun appeared in court he stuttered so badly he could hardly talk.

"Serves you right," said Magistrate Frothingham. "Defendant discharged."

HEED PROTEST OF CHINA, IS PLEA

San Francisco, July 19.—Fear that the work of the peace conference would have to be done over again in two decades unless China's protest against the award of Shantung to Japan were settled now, was expressed by Dr. Charles K. Edmunds, president of the Christian College of Canton, China, in an address today.

"The Chinese-Japanese situation is a duplicate of the recent situation in Europe, with a militaristic Prussian party in control and the populace in favor of a Democratic party. It must be our concern to fasten to and aid the right party in the future," he said. "The situation is the remnant of the whole international attitude toward China, not of Japan only. Japan only takes her cue from other Western powers, which showed her in the past how they treated China. China looks to the United States for help. We should in the Orient apply the same principles of righteousness as we applied in Europe.

"I have seen large forces of Japanese troops in the capital of Shantung province. When the Germans were in possession they had only a small section of Kiao Chau and these Japanese forces I saw were in the heart of Shantung, far away from the former German possession."

LIFE-SIZE SOLDIER STONES FOR THOSE KILLED IN WAR

Springfield, Ill., July 19.—Stone soldier monuments life-sized are the latest thing in tombstones. Two have arrived in Springfield. They are carved from solid rock by an Indiana concern. The figure displays a soldier in uniform, hat, coat, puttees and everything. A gun is carried. It adds a realistic touch to the figure. Not a single flaw can be found in the make-up. The designers even went so far as to give the coat the usual wrinkles. A face like ness may be had if desired. Each monument costs about $500.

U. S. A. IS NOT FREE SAYS LONDON PAPER

Amazed That Dry Wave Has Engulfed The Whole Country

London, July 11—"Some day there will arise some great American who will have the courage to tell his countrymen that it is the very negation of liberty to allow any man or number of men to interfere with anyone else except insofar as he is a nuisance or a danger to the community. If he succeeds the Americans will probably make him King—under the title and style of boss—and discover what freedom is."

This is what the Globe, one of the most conservative of London's papers, says in a long editorial discussing prohibition in the United States. The editorial is both humorous and sarcastic. It continues:

"Americans who have fondly thought it appears, mistakenly believed that they lived in a free country, have to revise their ideas and either find some new definition of liberty or admit that they have been deprived of that boon."

"We do not for one moment suppose that the majority of the American people are really in favor of this amazing abridgment of their natural rights, but the prohibitionists have captured the machine, and, as usually happens in such cases, the democracy is powerless. The average American has become ashamed to say in public that he likes a cocktail or a glass of lager and means to get it."

"The amazing fact remains that ninety millions of sane, white human beings pledge themselves to use their combined power to prevent any of their number from refreshing himself in the usual way."

PADUCAH DRUGGIST TELLS WHY MENDENHALL'S CHILL TONIC OUTSELLS ALL OTHERS

"Mr. J. C. Mendenhall, Evansville, Ind., Dear Sis:—You ask us if we are disposing of the one gross Mendenhall's Chill and Fever Tonic we have been purchasing from you monthly at retail as this is an unusual quantity for a retail druggist to buy. For your information, will state that our best physicians are prescribing your chill tonic almost daily with better results than quinine or any medicine used for malaria, chills and fever. We have a customer who was all run down, pale and emaciated and had a cough. Some physicians pronounced his case consumption. One of the doctors here prescribed a bottle of your chill tonic. He took it with the best results and continued it for some time, and he is now entirely well. He has a cough and chronic malaria. We find upon inquiry that the jobbers here purchase 60 gross of your chill tonic a year which, with our purchases, amount to over 8000 bottles a year, which are sold in the city of Paducah." Signed, Lang Bros. Druggists. Mendenhall's Chill Tonic has all the properties of ordinary quinine without the bad effects, combined with glycerine, licorice and yerba santa, which makes it at once the best remedy for coughs, colds and grippe. Price 60 cents. Sold by Ohio County Drug Company.

GERMANY TO PAY HEAVY INDEMNITY IN STOCK

Paris, Wednesday, July 26.—Germany will have to surrender to France 500 stallions, 3,000 fillies, 90,000 milch cows, 100,000 sheep and 10,000 goats, according to a report made to-day before the French peace commission sitting under the presidency of René Viviani, by M. Dubois, economic expert for the commission, in commenting on the peace treaty clauses.

Two hundred stallions, 5,000 mares, 5,000 fillies, 50,000 cows and 40,000 heifers also are to go to Belgium from Germany. The deliveries are to be made monthly during a period of three months until completed.

AERIAL PASSENGER SERVICE STARTED

Atlantic City, N. J., July 26.—Regular passenger airplane service between New York and Atlantic City was begun today. Two women, Mrs. John A. Hoagland, of New York and Miss Ethel Hodges, of Dallas, Tex., were the passengers on the pioneer flight. The flying boat Millicent, of the Traveler's Air Line, left the starting place at the foot of West Eighty-third street, North River at 12:58 p. m. and arrived at the Atlantic City air port at 3:18 p. m. having covered the distance of 106 miles in just 140 minutes.

It had been expected that faster time would be made, but strong head winds retarded the progress of the plane, so that it was not possible to get here in time to make a return trip this afternoon as had been planned.

A BILIOUS ATTACK.

When you have a bilious attack your liver fails to perform its functions. You become constipated. The food you eat ferments in your stomach instead of digesting. This inflames the stomach and causes nausea, vomiting and a terrible headache. Take three of Chamberlain's Tablets. They will tone up your liver, clean out your stomach and you will soon be as well as ever again. They only cost a quarter.

FLOATING SALOON PLAN BOON TO "RUM HOUNDS"

Los Angeles, July 26.—"Rum hounds" in and near this city are taking hope. A "floating bar"—ship that will take on its cargo in west Mexican ports, steer northward and lie at anchor three miles off the California shore for the benefit of the thirsty—is the latest project.

A former manager of a social club and a former owner of a cafe are said to be behind this novel enterprise. By loading the bar at a Mexican port the originators of the plan believe they will be violating no laws.

A FRIENDLY FLASH.

Down on the docks they were talking about a schooner which had been struck by lightning, when the reporter singled out an old mariner and said:

"Captain Haggles, it seems to me I've read or heard of your brig being struck."

"Yes, she was," answered the old yarn-spinner.

"WHERE WAS IT?"

"Off Point aux Barques, about fifteen years ago. Very strange case, that. Probably the only one of the kind ever heard of. We were jogging along when a thunderstorm overtook us, and the very first flash of lightning struck the deck amidships and bored a hole as big as my leg right down through the bottom of the vessel."

"And she founded, of course?"

"No, sir. The water began rushing in, and she would have founded but there came a second flash, and a bolt struck my fort-o'-gallant mast. It was cut off near the top, turned bottom end up, and as it came down it entered the hole and plugged it up as tight as a drum. When we got down to dry dock we simply sawed off either end and left the plug in the planks."

SNOW FALLS ON HILLS OF ROME—RECALLS OLD LEGEND

Rome, July 19.—A severe cold wave is sweeping the entire province, with a heavy snowfall reported in the highlands surrounding Rome. The inhabitants have been forced to put on their winter clothing and fires have been started in their homes.

The cold weather in a season which is usually hotter than the tropics, recalls a legend dating back to the fourth century, when it is said the Virgin appeared to Johannes and Pope Liberius. They were commanded to build a church on a spot where snow would fall the next morning, August 5. Accordingly, the Basilica Santa Maria Maggiore, then the largest church in Rome, was erected and dedicated to the Virgin.

HER KIND OF PARTY.

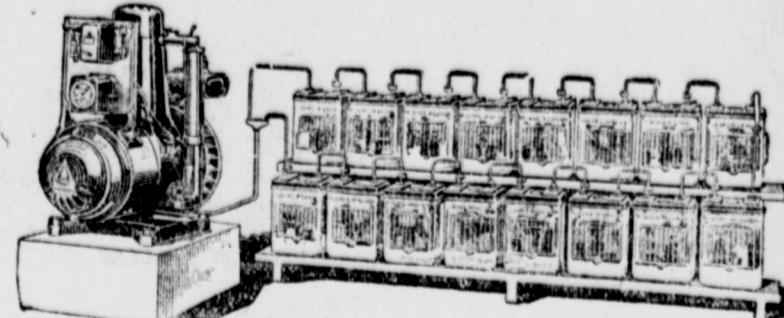

Little Miss Joan was to have a birthday party, having attained the enormous age of six years. She was very anxious indeed, to comport herself correctly, and was plying her mother with questions. "Well dear," said her mother, in answer to one concerning the advisability of saying grace before the meal, "for such an informal little party, I hardly think you need." Accordingly, when all the little guests were seated around the table, Joan from the head announced solemnly: "Mother says this is such an infernal little party we need not say grace.—Answers.

DEFENDANT-INVESTOR

This Man's Prosperity Assured By Fine In Court

It was the luckiest day of Dave Frederick's life when, on a disturbance of the peace charge, he was haled before Justice Piper in the Niagara Falls, N. Y., police court and sentenced to pay $12 weekly for six months.

Dave looked aghast and said it simply could not be did.

"All right," said the Judge, "Six months on the rock pile for yours," and he adjusted his spectacles, dipped his pen in ink and started to write.

David, the defendant, did some tall thinking and he did it quickly. "Six months at the works," he ruminated, "and not a cent of pay!" An old codger says that is for me if I do not buy $12 worth of War Savings Stamps every week for six months—26 weeks. That guy was right—life is just one darn thing after another—but I reckon it is best to lose $12 per week than $30.

So Dave halted the court.

"All right, your honor, I give up," "I'll buy War Savings Stamps."

Judge Piper smiled grimly when he outlined the process which required that payments be made promptly, failure of which meant the work and when final payment was made, Dave was to get W. S. S. for the full amount he had paid out.

When the six months had elapsed, Dave again said, "Good morning" to the Judge. But this time he entered a voluntary appearance.

"Judge, yer honor," said Dave, no longer a defendant, "you sure did me a favor when you sentenced me to pay that $12 a week. I did not believe I could save a dollar a week. But when I got through and now I see I have enough to make the first payment on the home that me and the old woman have wanted ever since we were married. And now I sentence myself to buy $10 a week of the same W. S. S. until we get our house paid for."

Police judges in other cities are trying out Judge Piper's plan and it is found workable everywhere.

RHEUMATISM CURED BY "NUMBER 40" OR MONEY BACK

Frank Staser, Newburg, Ind., states: "I suffered with rheumatism for several years and tried numerous remedies with little or no benefit. Mendenhall's Number 40 was recommended to me and I used in all six bottles and am entirely cured. I cheerfully recommend it to all rheumatic sufferers."

We have instructed the Ohio County Drug Company to issue a guarantee with three bottles of "Number 40," and if you are not cured or satisfied, your money will be cheerfully refunded.—J. C. Mendenhall, 40 years a druggist.

"Number 40" is employed in rheumatism, scrofula, blood poison, constipation, liver and stomach troubles.

THE VORACIOUS "BIG FIVE"

The Federal Trade Commission in a special report shows to what extent the "big five" of the meat packing industry are permeating the business of purveying all kinds of food. The "big five" jointly or separately, now control 574 companies, have a minority in 95 others, and have what is called an "undetermined interest" in 93 more. The packers now deal in such various commodities as fresh tomatoes and banjo strings, leather and cottonseed oil, grape juice, curled hair, pepsi, breakfast foods and washing powders. Thus branch houses are not only stations for the distribution of meat and poultry, but are wholesale grocery houses, and besides groceries they handle ice, salt, fertilizers, butter, eggs, rice, and countless other articles. The invasion has arrived with inundating force. The combined sales were above $3,000,000 last year, and go up to about a billion a year.

The Trade Commission is strong on description of conditions but weak on prescription of remedies. There is talk of illegal combinations and rewrites, but this old stuff, and experience has sadly shown that the disease of bigness is not removed when there are successful antitrust suits or a cessation of special transportation privileges. The packers thrive chiefly through the economies incident to doing business on a large scale and with perfected means.

The packers are unpopular, but even more unpopular are high prices of food. If the packers give more for less they will get the customers, and railing at unfair competition will not head them off. If other food distributors would keep the packers within bounds they must develop ways of lessening the margin between what is paid to producers and what is charged to consumers. On this vital problem the commission is practically silent—has apparently nothing constructive to offer—and this means that its report, while interesting, is of little practical value.—New York Tribune.

SAINT PETER ON THE JOB.

A wealthy broker died, and eventually found himself outside the gates of Heaven. St. Peter met him and after he heard the name he looked him up in the card index. St. Peter said he found many worthy things credited to the broker, but he could not let him in. He asked the broker if he made a good income. "Yes, about $7,000 a year," replied the broker. "Save any money?" asked St. Peter. "Well, no. You see, I always believed in living pretty well. I believed in enjoying life as I went along."

Then St. Peter said, "Did you leave a widow?" "Yes." "Leave her taken care of?" "Well," said the broker, "I'm afraid she will have to get some help from her friends. You see, I had some stock and it didn't pan out very well. But she'll get along—she's got some good friends."

St. Peter mused a minute or two then he said, "Didn't you ever take out any insurance?" "Well—no, I never bothered with insurance." "Do you remember," continued St. Peter, "an insurance man who called upon you less than a month before you died?" "Now you mention it, I do remember. "Do you recall what he told you?" "Yes," replied the broker, "he told me if I paid his company $25 a month they would pay my widow $50 a month in case I died." St. Peter stroked his whiskers and said, "And what did you say to him?" "Oh, I got mad and just told him to go to hell." "You did, did you? Well, in that case, you had better go and see if you can find him. James, show this man to the elevator going down."

Apply a cotton cloth wet with Ballard's Snow Liniment to all wounds, cuts, burns, sores or blisters, and note its wonderful healing power. It is prompt and very effective. Price 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle. Sold by Ohio County Drug Co.

WILL PROBE CANTONMENTS

Washington, July 1—All important army cantonments and camp throughout the country will be visited during the summer by a sub-committee created by the House of Representatives to probe for army scandals.

This sub-committee, which is No. 2 of the special investigating committee of fifteen, is composed of Representatives John C. McKenzie, of Illinois, Roscoe C. McCulloch, of Ohio, and Frank R. Doromus, of Michigan. McCulloch said to your correspondent that the sub-investigation will be prosecuted with great thoroughness, and that a tour of the camps and cantonments is practically the only way in which this can be done. When the members arrive at an army camp, they will virtually resolve themselves into a court, send for witnesses, compel the production of books and records, and sift every bit of evidence to the bottom. Already much extravagance and waste have been found.

SOCK BANKS GONE

Americans Have Learned That Idle Money Is a Waste.

"Americans," says a man who has read, studied and traveled, "frequently are accused of lacking the habit of saving. Comparisons, unfavorable to Americans, always are being made between the saving habits of United States residents and those of various European countries, France, Holland, and Belgium. Now admitting that many of these accusations are true, the answer is not far to seek.

The people of France, Holland and Belgium have saved, in large measure, because saving is the century strengthened habit of their people. They have saved because, money coming less freely to them than to Americans, their money-making opportunities being fewer, the stern necessity for making provision for the future has been sternly pressed upon them. They have saved also, perhaps in a far greater degree than might generally be suspected, because they have had good, safe investments—Government investments—always waiting, in small denominations, to be had."

There is much truth in this statement. The first Liberty Loan represented practically the first general American opportunity for investing in government securities. When the bonds of that first issue had been purchased, many of them though part payments, countless American citizens for the first time had tasted the joys of steady, systematic saving. The second loan found them ready and willing buyers. So did the Third and Fourth Liberty Loan issues. The Victory Loan met with the hearty approval of the thoughtful small investor, who had learned the small-savings lesson thoroughly. Many a person, who prior to the first Liberty Loan had never saved systematically, now buy War Savings Stamps as regularly as the week's salary is paid.

Bowling Green, Ky., July 26.—A 1,000-barrel oil well was drilled in on the Lawrence-Phillips lease near Three Forks late Thursday evening. The Moulder wells were sold for $500,000 recently.

BELGIUM TO MAKE OSTEND PLAYGROUND

London, July 26.—Belgium proposes to make Ostend the world's playground.

It is believed that Belgium will see an enormous influx of visitors, who, from various motives, will want to see the famous battlefields. Ostend, being the natural center from which these tours will radiate, will have unique opportunities for relieving visitors of their surplus money and time, by means of a great variety of attractions proposed to be erected there.

Under the heading of agricultural machinery and equipment the following losses are reported:

Plows, 55,150; 39,350 weeding tools, 50,756 harrows, 44,000 rollers, 13,000 drills, 27,000 reapers, 20,000 rakes, 14,000 hay-making machines, 15,000 binders, 70,000 wagons, 12,500 threshing machines, 90,000 sets of harness.

A TRIBUTE TO DAD

From a Soldier.

They think of us soldiers as heroes, And praise our names to the skies; They have tears for the one who is wounded.

And prayers for the one who dies,

They write songs of our pals and our sweethearts.

And mothers so brave and sad;

But name a great singer or poet

Who's mentioned a word about Dad.

Poor Dad, with check book and troubles,

He hasn't a look-in at all.

It's Mother and pal and sweetheart

And Sammy who answered the call.

But Dad must be thinking and working

In a store or mine or a mill

To get the old round iron dollars

To pay the big family bill.

He buys the new bonds by the dozen.

Tho' his shoes are run down at the heel.

And his overcoat's old and looks shabby,

But he never hear old Daddy squeal.

He doesn't write much of a letter

To his boy who is over in France,

But sends him a crisp five or ten spot

Whenever he has a good chance.

And evenings when reading his paper

And smoking his pipe or cigar,

He thinks of his boy in khaki

Says, "I hope it's well where you are."

Now, I think just a lot of my Mother;

She's written each day I've been gone;

And my pals and my friends and my sweetheart

Have all helped to cheer me along.

But my Dad is a good and is human,

And sometimes I certainly feel

That as Dad has to pay and to work every day,

I don't think he gets a square deal.

Lawrence, Mass., July 26.—Single life is the best, declared Jonathan Auty, Lawrence's grand old man, who has reached the age of 92, and is still a bachelor.

HOPE DIAMOND, REPUTED UNLUCKY, FOR SALE AGAIN

Chicago, July 29.—Who'll buy the Hope diamond? It is rumored that Edward B. McLean wants to sell it. It is the one unlucky diamond. Diamonds are considered lucky jewels but the Hope blue diamond, according to an old superstition, brings death to all who own or wear it.

Mr. McLean bought it in 1911. He knew of the curse it was supposed to bring and of its strange association with many historic tragedies thru several centuries. While in his family the gem remained on its good behavior for years. Then Vincent McLean, once known as the million dollar baby, met death beneath the wheels of an automobile. Mr. McLean, who once laughed at the old superstition, is said, now to believe in it and is seeking to get rid of the tragic stone. Who'll buy it?

Don't forget to register your vote on the special road tax proposition tomorrow. A vote for good roads is a step forward.

We notice that Senator Lodge is accused of the "awful crime" of writing to representatives of foreign governments for certain information, relative to the peace treaty and league of Nations, by some of our democratic newspapers, without first obtaining the consent of the United States Government. Mr. Woodrow Wilson appears to have assumed the whole responsibility of the American Government, and as he will not open up the recesses of his cells of hidden information, how else is the chairman of the foreign relations committee to secure the desired knowledge?

We believe that the road tax ought to carry, because we need our roads improved, and, are firmly of the opinion that no improvement can be had with the means now at hand.

We are for the proposition because we do not expect to get roads without paying for them. We are for the road tax "not because we have much personal use for the roads" but for of him and he cannot cut down the reason that we are willing to pay our proportional part of the tax the men, who are creating the expense to help those whose duty it now is to hold the unnecessary jobs are to keep the roads in repair. Lastly, we for Black" are for the proposition because we deem it right, because it is the only way to vote progressively, because the interest of all citizens within the county, and many others, will be materially enhanced, because we would never feel that we had performed our duty as we should have done, if we voted negatively on the question.

The dancing craze, or whatever you may please to call it, seems to be nation wide. Almost every section appears to be the field of dancing activity, perhaps greater than ever before noted. Ministers everywhere are attempting to combat with what they term an evil practice. Whether ious worship and zeal. Whether the individual devotee of the dance commits sin by the act we are not prepared nor attempting to state, but when taken collectively, we take it that very few, if any, will differ from the above statement, that is, its detracting influence from church and religious work and matters. We sincerely believe that one great trouble with both dancer and preacher is that it often happens that each have a mistaken idea of the motives of the other. Most sermons delivered on the dancing question are, as a rule, delivered largely to those who oppose dancing, and the average dance is likewise attended by those who see no harm in that character of amusement.

Hence we have two separate factions when the question is discussed. Reports from the dance hall and pulpit, one to the other, are very nearly always exaggerated, and, for that reason the breach between the two may be widened, in fact that rule usually prevails. One great reason for failure of most sermons on dancing, is due to the fact that the two extremes are so widely apart. Some church members attend dances, but the majority of the ardent devotees of the dance are not usually found in church pews on preaching days. This is especially true when we are in the midst of a season of difference and general discussion.

BOTH TELL THE TRUTH.

Judge Carroll, Democratic candidate for Governor, charges that his opponent, James D. Black, has "taken possession of the office holding the ring and they have taken possession personal use for the roads" but for of him and he cannot cut down the reason that we are willing to pay our proportional part of the tax the men, who are creating the expense to help those whose duty it now is to hold the unnecessary jobs are to keep the roads in repair. Lastly, we for Black"

Candidate Black replies to the Judge and charges that Carroll is being supported by Eli Brown of the Harkness case, Henry Himes of the Board of Control, George Speer, Bank Commissioner, Carr Thomas, etc.

"The worst of the Stanley gang and that Carroll cannot clean house with such backers, counsellors and supporters."

Right gentlemen! Both right! Neither one of you can do the job of house-cleaning at Frankfort, which the people demand. Right, you have divided the attorneys in the Harkness and Bingham tax cases, the members of the discredited Board of Control, the receivers of unnecessary ator bounce the gang at Frankfort. But do not worry, neither of you will be trusted to do the job, Morrow will see to that. He is not tied to Eli Brown, or "Fire Putter Out Pannell," or controller, Thos. Hatcher, or to the compromising tax attorneys.

The only way to destroy both halves of the Capitol clique is to destroy the whole by electing Edwin P. Morrow in November.

ORDER FOR 20 CENT ROAD TAX ELECTION

State Of Kentucky, Ohio
County Fiscal Court
June 26th, 1919

It appearing that Ohio county has not sufficient amount of money for road purposes and that the present system of road working by road hands is inadequate and unsuitable for the working and up keep of the roads of Ohio county, and having been called upon by the State Commissioner of public Roads of Kentucky, as well as by a large number of citizens of Ohio county by petition for a better and more adequate system of the working and upkeep of the country roads of Ohio county, and being desirous of meeting this demand in the best and most practicable way, and it further appearing that a special election upon the question of a 20c road tax may be held at a primary election at but very small expense in addition to the expense otherwise required, and made necessary by holding of a primary election for its general purposes, it is now, on motion of Esq. B. F. Rice, ordered and adjudged by the court that a special election be held throughout Ohio County and in each and all the precincts therein on August 2, 1919, for the purpose of submitting the question of voting a tax of 20c on the $100.00 on all property subject by law to local taxation for the improvement or construction of the public roads and bridges of the county, either, or both. Said amount of tax shall be 20c on the hundred dollars each year for a period of five years and no amount of money in excess of the amount that can be raised by the levy in one year shall be expended in that year, and all indebtedness created in any one year for such road and bridge purposes shall be paid out of the fund raised in that year. Said tax to be an ad valorum tax to be levied each year and collected by the sheriff at the same time and in the same manner and by the same process that he collects other taxes and for the collection of the tax levied hereunder the sheriff shall be entitled to and allowed a commission of 1 per cent of the amount so collected and no more, as provided in section 4307-B4 of Kentucky Statutes, Vol. 3.

The question of voting said tax of 20c ad valorum on the hundred dollars worth of property subject by law to local taxation, small be submitted to the voters in the following language and not otherwise:

"Are you for a property tax of twenty cents on each one hundred dollars worth of property in the county, to be levied each year for five years, for the purpose of improving or constructing, either or both, the roads and bridges of the county?"

S. A. Bratcher, sheriff of Ohio county, Ky., is hereby appointed, ordered, and directed to hold said election, and he shall cause a poll to be opened in each and all of the precincts throughout Ohio county, on the above named date as the law in such cases directs and he will first advertise said election by having a certified copy of this order published in a weekly newspaper published and having the largest circulation in Ohio county, for at least thirty days before the date of said election, and W. C. Blenkinsip, Clerk of this court, is ordered and directed to immediately furnish the sheriff aforesaid a certified copy of this order for the purpose of said advertising.

Said sheriff and said clerk are further ordered and directed to do and to perform each and everything required under the laws of the Commonwealth of Kentucky in advertising and conducting said election, and in preparing and preserving the ballots and canvassing and certifying the vote, and said election is directed to be held in all respects as required by law governing such elections, and under the general election laws of this commonwealth now in force which relate and apply to such elections.

It is resolved and so ordered that the money derived from the taxes so levied and collected shall be used, expended and applied in each and several of the respective magisterial districts of the county where said taxes are so levied and collected, so that each of said districts shall receive all and in full the taxes so levied and collected therein. Persons carefully selected for their competency and put under bond for the fair and faithful performance of their duties will be employed in each district to see after the work therein, and said taxes shall be for the exclusive working and upkeep of the public roads and the bridges and culverts thereon of said respective districts, and shall be so apportioned, used, and applied as to change no system of road working in Ohio county from the road hand system now in existence to a system of working said roads by the use of proper and improved, adequate and sufficient road machinery, by teams, graders, scrapers, ditchers, drags, dynamite, drills, and other road appliances, adaptable and suitable for both hills and lowlands, so that each and all sections of road whether hill or lowland shall have the attention necessary and suitable for its proper upkeep and convenient use for the several communities affected and for the general traveling public but the purchase of such machinery, implements and tools shall be made in no event out of the funds derived from the 20c road tax, but exclusively from the funds derived from taxes regularly levied and collected each year as already provided by law, and the men now subject to duties as road hands throughout the county shall be released from such duty.

The amount of said tax shall not exceed the said rate of 20c on the hundred dollars as aforesaid, nor be levied or collected for a longer period than five years. As it is not within our power to levy or have collected any poll tax additional to that already levied and collected, nor to submit the question of voting an additional poll tax, hence the election ordered is for the purpose of levying and collecting a tax on property only. Ayes and Nays being called for resulted as follows; B. F. Rice, Yes; Q. B. Brown, Yes; W. S. Dean, Yes; W. C. Daugherty, Yes; B. C. Rhoads, Yes; G. W. Rowe, No; Sam L. Stevens, Absent; Ed Shown, Yes. Whereupon the motion was declared carried and so ordered.

FARM DEPARTMENT.

Cheaper To Raise Than Chickens.
It costs about 25 cents to raise a rabbit to the age of three months. At that time it may be marketed at the rate of 35 to 40 cents a pound and the pelts are worth from 15 to 75 cents, depending on the kind of rabbit and its size. Oats, cabbage and water compose the basic diet used by most of the young growers. Compared with chicken raising, the points are in favor of the rabbits, for the hares are very hardy and require inexpensive feed.

How Old Is The Chicken You Buy?

A good method of determining the age of dressed fowls, according to specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture, is to grasp the end of the breast bone farthest from the head between the thumb and finger and attempt to bend it to one side. In a very young bird, such as a broiler chicken or a green goose, it will bend easily like the cartilage of the human ear. In a bird a year or so old, it will be brittle and, in an old bird, tough and hard to bend or break. Unscrupulous dealers sometimes break one end of the breast bone before showing the bird on the market, in order that the buyer will believe the bird to be a young one.

Up-To-Date Summer Styles In Hen Houses

The curtain-front or partial open-front house is conceded to be the best type for most sections. The colony plan of housing poultry may be adopted to advantage on many farms. This system does away with the danger of tainted soil.

The roosts should be built on the same level, 3 feet from the floor, with a dropping board about 6 inches below them. Good roosts may be made of 2 by 2 inch material with the upper edges rounded.

The nests may be placed on the side walls or under the dropping boards. It is best to have them darkened, as the hens prefer a secluded place in which to lay.

Put a Chimney On The Barn.

All County Agents are being instructed to use every effort to increase the number of silos in their districts, the campaign is on in earnest, each Agent is furnished with a list of firms both in and out of this State who handle all kinds of silos at all prices, this information is free to you. It will cost you nothing to investigate.

Due to the lateness of the season and the probable high percentage of loss, which is bound to ensue if we have an early frost, it is advised that farmers put up silos this year and so have means of saving labor and so have a means of saving a world of feed which would otherwise be lost. Call on your Agent for any information, he can refer you to men in your county who know from their own experience how valuable a silo is, and he will give you prices, sizes etc.

Don't wait until frost to start this, do it now, have a place to put your feed, and incidentally have some of the best feed you have ever fed.

If an agent from some silo concern has been to see you and you have let him get away, send for him and go over it again, if you think he is spreading it on too thick send for the County Agent; and go over it with him for that is what a County Agent is for, to make money for the farmer and to save money for him.

Silos are no longer an experiment, they are a necessity, get yours NOW.

M. L. McCracken,
Ohio County Agent.

Mid-Summer Snap Shots.

Another brood sow on every farm will mean additional profit.

A flock of sheep on every farm should bring in rich returns to the Farmers of this State.

Care should be taken in loading stock during hot weather.

Don't load hogs hot; don't overload a car; don't use saw dust bedding in hot weather; don't load hogs in a filthy car; see that the cars are in proper condition. Many thousands of dollars could be saved annually by giving careful attention to the proper handling of live stock.

Guard Wheat Against Rats And Mice.
The greatest wheat crop ever produced in America is being harvested. Grain elevators will soon become veritable treasures which thieving rats and mice will break into if they can.

Don't feed $2.26 wheat to rats and mice says the United States Department of Agriculture. Traps, poison, and rat-proof construction will stop their raids.

The arch enemies of stored grain are dampness and rodent pests, rats and mice. An elevator with a leaky roof is only a little worse than one allowing free entry of rats and mice. The present price of wheat makes a telling appeal for rat proof construction of wheat containers. Now is the time to fill rat holes with cement, or cover them with sheet iron, and to best, must be discontinued if the present quality and yield of the crop is to be materially improved, say specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture. The grower can not expect to get maximum yields from inferior seed stock any more than the dairyman can expect to get maximum milk yields from scrub cows. The best time to select seed potatoes, according to the specialists, is in the fall when the crop is being harvested. Then the yield of the individual plant and the quality of the tubers can be considered.

Good seed is pure in respect to the variety; is produced by healthy, vigorous, heavy yielding plants grown under favorable climatic conditions; is somewhat immature; reasonably uniform in size and shape; firm and sound. The first sprouts should begin to develop at planting time.

Soy Beans And Cowpeas Good Feed For Lambs.

Ravages of the stomach worm now become apparent in much of the eastern section of the United States. To minimize them, it is well to wean the lambs rather early and turn them on fresh pastures. This is advice from specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture.

Grain fed to weaned lambs, up to one-half pound a day, has proved profitable. Soy beans and cowpeas have been found the best catch crops for the purpose of providing fresh pastureage. Of the two, soy beans seem to make the best and most rapid growth. Six weeks in most cases is sufficient time to secure a good growth of this crop.

By utilizing these crops fresh pastures for lambs are easily available for this most crucial period of the life of a sheep.

DO HOGS LIKE TO SWIM OR LIE IN COOL SHADE?

All hog raisers know the value of water for their animals during hot weather—fresh, clean water for them to drink and a pool or wallow for them to get in when they are too hot. A good "swimmin' hole" reduces the feed bills and many hog raisers find it pays to have a concrete water basin in their hog lot.

There is one on the experiment farm of the United States Department of Agriculture at Beltsville, Md. It is provided with a covered frame which furnishes shade. It was noticed that during the heat of the day the hogs did not get in the water but preferred to lie around in the edge of the pool in the shade. This year another pool has been built in an adjacent hog lot, but the shade will be provided several yards away. Hogs are to be kept in both lots and it will be noted that they prefer to get in the water or to lie in the shade during the heated part of the day. Weights will be kept of the animals in the different lots to see which makes the most economical gains.

Quality Hogs For The Pork Barrel.

Farmers throughout the country are using improved hog-breeding stock more generally than ever before, report specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture, as they are learning that the best stock yields the most profits, and hence are more careful in their selection of breeding animals.

Farmers, as a rule, seem to be pleased with the outlook for the hog raiser, and the indications point to a large increase in the number of litters to be farrowed next fall. Much trouble was experienced with the early spring litters because of cold weather at farrowing time and on account of feed shortage and the high price of protein feeds, causing many stockmen to allow their brood sows to get into poor condition, with the result that small and weak litters were farrowed. In the main, these farmers have learned a costly lesson, and henceforth it is presumed that they will provide better housing and farrowing conditions as well as ample food of the right mixture, for their porkers.

Cure For Dysentery.

"While I was in Ashland, Kansas, a gentleman overheard me speaking of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy," writes William Whitelaw, of Des Moines, Iowa. "He told me in detail of what it had done for his family, but more especially his daughter, who was lying at the point of death with violent attack of dysentery, and had been given up by the family physician. Some of his neighbors advised him to give Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy, which he did, and fully believes that by doing so saved the life of his child. He stated that he had also used this remedy himself with equally gratifying results.

FOOD

At intervals, nicely timed, for the last two years the federal trade commission has issued a catalogue of the iniquities of the big packers. One might imagine that this commission does nothing—which, indeed, is not far from the truth—but bountifully reaches the eighth grade in school. Of 1,166 colored children to whom certificates were issued only forty reached the eighth grade. In other words, 96 per cent of the white children and 97 per cent of the colored children granted certificates had not reached the eighth grade in school.

As a matter of fact, all these reports are but the lees of that ex parte, wild-west Meney investigation which so stirred the indignation of Chicagoans two years ago, followed up by a hearing before the trade commission which was a travesty on food conditions.

Yet this last report does not charge the packers with inflating prices or creating unfair competition. On the other hand, it implies that the packers' profits of 2 per cent on the turnover—a fraction of a cent per pound—has no effect on the retail price of meat.

Nevertheless, the report inflames the public. The public is easily inflamed now because it is true that the high cost of living is turning many man's hair gray. It is menacing our social equilibrium. Whenever two men—not necessarily in overalls—come together food is the chief topic.

Something must be done, and the Post's idea of that something is for congress or the president to rejuvinate this discredited federal trade commission, which as an example of bureaucratic inefficiency has a marking of 100. Make it a body that will command public respect and the confidence of congress. Then turn it loose on the packers and all others suspected of profiteering.

Shouting "Bolshevism!" in stentorian tones is not going to allay the present social discontent, which finds expression nowadays in almost every public gathering. It is high time that those guilty of withholding bread from the mouths of the hungry should be punished and made to walk the straight and narrow path in the future.

But no measure based on the findings of the present federal trade commission will elicit intelligent public support or the right kind of congressional action.—Chicago Evening Post.

STRAY STREAKS

Albert Rial says if that "stocking-less-footies" fad hits this town for good, Smith will have to put blinkers on Ben Taylor, or else pull the window shades down and shave by artificial light, so's Ben won't cut some man's throat while looking out through the windows.

We knew darn well that something was coming when the fair Janes started lengthening their skirts, but little did we dream that it was to be stockingless footies. It's tough luck on us men. Don't see why in the dickens we couldn't have the shy skirts and no socks together, I mean the fashions at the same time. That's what I mean. Then we would have really saved something.

Winston Smith, of Select, was here to-day and in addition to what he told me about that strip of yellow root he dug and sold, he also had some very good fish stories too.

Eck Rial says it ain't no use for the average feller to start a argument with Purd Casebier, 'cause Purd's got it over most of the common herd, from his own viewpoint, at least, due to the fact that he janitored at the college 2 years or more.

Bob Walker and I were going home a few nights back, and at the R. R. Crossing, in the center of the walk, there was a fine, big, rusty snake, of the copperhead variety, slowly crawling 'neath the electric light. Of course we were much frightened at first, the unexpectedness of the thing and nearly tramping on it too. Walker looked at it for a moment and then began to approach it in a deliberate, bite-me sort of manner. I remonstrated with Bob, and, had it not been for the timely appearance of Judge Cook, Bob would have let the reptile bite him. It was all the Judge and I could do to prevent it. Bob was very much offended at us for our interference. He finally explained to us that he thought his wife had about a pint of whiskey put away for camphor and other such useless concoctions, and if he went home snake-bitten he believed that his good wife would give him the booze.

There is but little difference 'twixt hunger and thirst these days. Things have come to such a pass we can't appease either. We can't find one, and don't have the price for the other.

HURT AT ROCKPORT.

Hubert Ball, a young man of Simmons, who had been in Louisville for some time under medical treatment, in alighting from a moving freight train, on which he had ridden from Louisville, was very painfully injured yesterday about noon. His right hand was badly mangled and he sustained other bruises and cuts about the body, none of which are of a serious nature. He was brought to Hartford yesterday afternoon, his arm was amputated near the wrist joint and other wounds dressed. The young man fell or lost his balance in some way and the train from which he had jumped knocked him down, running over the hand or arm, necessitating amputation.

CROMWELL PICKS SHANKS

This paper is indebted to Mr. Thomas B. Cromwell, the Cincinnati Enquirer's Kentucky representative, for the figures secured by a postal card canvass of the State, which show that Hon. William H. Shanks is sure to be nominated Lieutenant governor. Mr. Cromwell sends return postal cards to several leading Democrats of each county and he tabulates their responses which indicate that there will be landslide to the man from Lincoln. Counties in the extreme Western part of the state vie with those of the East in estimates of the vote, all of which show a gratifying trend to him. It is really surprising how Mr. Shanks has forged to the front in the two months that he has been a candidate, after his opponent had spent a year or two in candidacy. It proves conclusively electioneering and advertising his that the people know a good man when they see him. There is something about the honest face of Will Shanks that attracts and inspires confidence and his manly manner and unassumed cordiality do the rest. Those who have known Will Shanks from childhood, and the editor of this paper is among them, know that he is as pure as gold. He is the soul of honor, his word is as good as his bond and he is in every way a man who can always be depended upon. As a high-toned, Christian gentleman and a Democrat in whom there is no guile, his county-men present him to the Democracy of the State and ask their cordial support, confident that he will more than they claim prove worthy of their good opinion and endorsement. Vote for Will Shanks and you will always be conscious of having done a patriotic duty.—Stanford, Ky. (ad.)
